

David Konigsberg. Nigh Season

13 Sep–31 Oct 2014 at Kenise Barnes Fine Art, Larchmont

Kenise Barnes Fine Art is delighted to announce the opening the fall art season with a much-anticipated exhibition of new paintings by David Konigsberg. Kenise Barnes Fine Art represents Konigsberg exclusively and Nigh Season is the artist's third solo exhibition with the gallery. Konigsberg, a well-established, mid-career artist has delivered thirteen exceptional new canvases for this show. His solo exhibition in 2012 sold out.

In Konigsberg's work we are cognizant of the duality between the lush painterly surface and the mysterious narrative of his composition. Moving deftly between the genres of landscape, still life and his distinctive, signature figurative painting style, Konigsberg shows mastery of his medium and subject. The compositions are rich with implied history, folly, fragility and the illusiveness of the everyday. Konigsberg's graceful brushwork renders his subjects at once dreamlike and tangible. His paintings coalesce in a powerful union of imagination and truth.

The artist's work has appeared in episodes of Gossip Girl, Chronogram Magazine, The New York Times and New American Paintings, to name a few. He lives and works in Hudson, NY.

Kenise Barnes Fine Art

Gallery I, 1947 Palmer Avenue

Larchmont (NY) 10538 United States

Tel. +1 (914) 8348077

info@kbfa.com

www.kenisebarnesfineart.com

Opening hours

Tuesday - Saturday

From 10:00am to 5:30pm and by appointment

Related images

1. David Konigsberg, Equinox, 2014, oil on canvas, 44 x 55 inches
2. David Konigsberg, Milkweed, 2014, oil on canvas, 44 x 56 inches
3. David Konigsberg, Fields Near Germantown, 2014, oil on canvas, 45 x 60 inches
4. David Konigsberg, Caladium, 2014, oil on canvas, 55 1/4 x 58 1/4 inches
5. David Konigsberg, Field and Cumulus, 2014, oil on canvas, 44 x 46 inches
6. David Konigsberg, Round Above Ground, 2014, oil on canvas mounted on panel , 32 x 35 inches

September 11, 2014