MARGARET NEILL

STATEMENT

Margaret Neill is an American abstract artist living in New York City. She is recognized for both energetic and contemplative works on canvas and paper that incorporate multilayered curvilinear forms. Her deeply embodied works turn gesture into form and linear shifting atmospheres that mirror closely observed experience of daily life. The constantly changing circumstances of this process over time begin to characterize a penetrating aliveness of being, a continuous flow of what is inherently inexplicable and connect the viewer to a universal rhythm that is continuous and ever present.
